

Markets seemed to be strong and getting better before COVID hit, who knows now

Holding for the moment, although securing trucks for back hauls to NH/ME/Canada are tougher due to less lumber/mulch heading south

Just prior to pandemic shutdowns, all hardwoods dropped 15%. White pine seems stabile.

Markets for hardwood have been very uneasy. COVID-19 has closed most Canadian mills and has adversely affected many of the Mills in the US.